DETAILED ACTION

Claims 1 – 77 have been examined.

Drawings

1. Drawings filed September 25, 2003 have been approved.

Information Disclosure Statement

2. The Information Disclosure Statement filed 12/15/2003 has been considered.

3. Please, submit an amendment to complete page 2 of the Cross Reference Section.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

4. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

5. Claims 20 - 77 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. The current focus of the Patent Office in regard to statutory inventions under 35 U.S.C. § 101 for method claims and claims that recite a judicial exception (software) is that the claimed invention recite a practical application. Practical application can be provided by a physical transformation or a useful, concrete and tangible result. No physical transformation is recited and additionally, the final result of the claim is for obfuscation of software which is not a tangible result because the claims do not explicitly claim the result on a computer readable medium. The following link on the World Wide Web is for the United States Patent And Trademark Office (USPTO) policy on 35 U.S.C. §101.

Art Unit: 2193

Claim 77

A memory for storing data for access by an application program being executed on a data processing system, comprising: a data structure stored in said memory, said data structure including information used by said application program to determine a next application program instruction to execute, said data structure comprising one or more entries comprising a first value and a modifier value, said modifier value determining how said first value is modified, said first value matching a first one or more bits of a current application program instruction counter value.

Using claim 77 above, the way to overcome this rejection is to add the step of updating the memory with the result.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claimed invention contains allowable subject matter over prior art of record. The PCT search report indicated an "X" reference (Glew USPN #5,564,111). Glew teaches non-blocking translation look asided buffer technology. Glew does not teach the claimed invention.
